About The Restoration House: Single parent families represent over 35% of households in Knoxville, and the majority of them are single mother families who are living below the poverty line. The Restoration House (TRH) was founded in 2007 and provides supportive transitional housing and Ally Teams to help bridge the gap between existing services for low-income single mothers and their children while helping them break the cycle of poverty and giving them an opportunity to restore life's four key relationships through a personalized, guided plan.
